

September 2012

Press Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WILLIAM (BILL) TRACY, COMMISSIONER OF SOUTHWEST SUBURBAN SEWER DISTRICT RECEIVES

“COMMISSIONERS ACCREDITATION AWARD, 3RD AND FINAL LEVEL ACHIEVEMENT”

BY THE WASHINGTON ASSOCIATION OF SEWER & WATER DISTRICTS

SeaTac, Washington: William (Bill) Tracy, Commissioner of Southwest Suburban Sewer District was presented with a Commissioners Accreditation Award in recognition for completing the Commissioner Accreditation Guidelines in the Washington Association of Sewer & Water Districts Leadership Development Program in 2011. The Award was presented at the annual fall conference held on September 20, 2012.

The award is presented to those commissioners who have completed the Leadership Development Certification guidelines and continued attending workshops that include instruction on legal and ethical requirements for commissioners and public officials.

The leadership courses are designed to help Commissioners develop skills to assist in leadership growth, strengthen and develop the ability to formulate good public policy, and enhance and improve their personal leadership skills and effectiveness.

The Washington Association of Sewer & Water Districts unites special purpose sewer and water districts throughout the state to work toward improving utility services and providing them to customers at the lowest cost possible. Services provided to members include training and support for staff members, education for utility districts and information sharing on service applications and technology.

For further information, please contact:

Blair Burroughs
Executive Director
Washington Association of Sewer and Water Districts